Traditional Southern hospitality

The exquisite Linden Row Inn lies at the heart of Downtown Richmond, just within a few blocks of museums, art galleries and Civil War attractions, as well as a fantastic choice of Richmond's famed restaurants and craft breweries.

Offering traditional Southern hospitality, this historic hotel, originally built in the mid-1800s, combines old-world charm with modern luxuries. Some of the 70 rooms and suites are housed in the original row homes that comprise the property, whilst others are set in carriage houses.

Amenities include a secluded courtyard for events, valet parking and a complimentary local shuttle service, while wholesome food is served in the cozy Urban Farmhouse Market and Café.
